Designed by architect Alan Gonzalez, 1313 Comal Street is a creative mix of minimalism and eclectic style. Traditional East Austin bungalow has been completely remodeled on the interior. The open floor plan and clean white interior accentuate the natural light in the house, and additional skylights have been added in the kitchen and bathroom to further encourage that bright airy feeling. Located blocks from the East 11th corridor means it is an incredibly walkable neighborhood.

Offered at: $340,000
